Congressman To Seek Repeal Of War Excise Taxes

Many Congressmen Inclined To Reject Increases In Income Taxes

TAFT IS AGAINST ANY TAX BOOST

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(INS)—Rep. Forand (D) R. I., a member of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee announced today that he will press for repeal of all wartime excise taxes.

Forand estimated that elimination of the taxes on so-called "luxury" items would save American consumers approximately one and a half billion dollars a year.

At the same time, many members of the committee indicated they are inclined to reject any increase of individual income taxes except as a last resort.

Should Start Higher

These members feel that if a tax increase is necessary it should start on incomes considerably higher than the $6,000 figure mentioned by President Truman.

Meanwhile, Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, came out flatly against a tax boost. He said: "I think you should reduce expenditures so you don't have to increase taxes. I'm against it."

Forand said that the revenue lost in repealing excise taxes would have to be made up in some other way, possibly through enactment of a "limited" excess profits tax on corporations.

President Truman has asked for four billion dollars in new taxes to be raised through increased

Pa Newc Observes

Although some rain fell during the night on district highways, road officials state that not enough fell to make bad driving conditions in the district. The falling rain froze dry.

Some pilot evidently on an early morning flight was dropping his way over the city before 8 o'clock this morning. The loud noise of the plane's motor attracted attention of those who were on the street at that time.

More district churches are slated to celebrate various milestones in the history of the church this coming year. Pa Newc has been told. A number of churches, celebrated fiftieth, seventy-fifth and centennial anniversaries during the past year. According to a manual of the Presbyterian church, Harrisburg Presbyterian church will be 75 years old next year.

Boys and girls about the city and county are really taking advantage of the open winter by indulging in many outdoor sports. Ball games, bike riding and other summer games are in progress after school hours on almost every vacant lot.

Indian head pennies, which have been conspicuous for their absence among our coins, are turning up now and then in change received. In the past few weeks, Pa Newc has received two of the old coins in transactions.

One and a half cent postage just "ain't" any more, Postmaster William R. Hanna warns. In spite of this fact, folks still send mail matter to the office with one and a half cents worth of postage on them, hoping perhaps that it will get through. It is promptly returned to the sender for the other half cent.

Pushing Measure To Boost Truman's Salary

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(INS)—Democratic leaders expressed confidence today that hefty pay boosts for President Truman Vice President Barkley and House Speaker Rayburn will become law before an inauguration day deadline.

They predicted that the increase bill, passed last yesterday in the senate by a 68 to 9 vote, easily will gain the two-thirds majority vote it requires in the house on Monday. Only scattered house opposition to the measure is expected.

The bill grants a $75,000 pay increase to President Truman and $20,000 increases to Barkley and Rayburn.

The presidential boost would be achieved by raising Mr. Truman's salary from the present $75,000 a year to $100,000 a year and granting him a new, no-strings-attached $50,000 expense fund to meet the high cost of being president.

Both Barkley and Rayburn would have their salaries boosted from $20,000 to $30,000 a year and receive new expense accounts of $10,000.

All of the expense account money would be tax-free.

Senate passage was finally reached after a day-long debate highlighted by a GOP block's attempt to require an accounting of all expense money used. The attempt was defeated, 61 to 22.

Turkish Cabinet Members Resign

ANKARA, Jan. 14.—(INS)—The Turkish cabinet resigned suddenly today, and President Ismet Inonu immediately summoned political leaders to a conference on selection of a new government.

The resignation apparently followed a dispute over Marshall plan funds.

Political observers predicted that some cabinet changes were imminent when Kasim Gulek, minister of communications, was appointed minister of state for Marshall plan aid. He was made responsible for coordinating the Turkish economy with the foreign credit program of the ECA.

Withers Will Be Named To Take Barkley's Place

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 14.—(INS)—Governor Earle C. Clements prepared today to appoint Garrett L. Withers, 64, Kentucky highway commissioner, to the Senatorial post which Alben W. Barkley will vacate to become vice-president.

The announcement of the appointment was made officially last night.

SET INQUEST DATE

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 14.—(INS)—January 27 was the date set today by the Allegheny county coroner for an inquest into the slaying of 12-year-old Carole Lee Kensing.

The junior high school student was brutally stabbed to death in her Brushton district home last December 10.

Since then, police have been unable to trap the killer.

Israel-Egypt Begin Parley

U. N. Supervised Armistice Parley Is Begun—See Hopes For Success

RHODES, Jan. 14.—(INS)—Israel and Egypt plunged into their U. N. supervised armistice parley today with what acting Mediator Dr. Ralph J. Bunche described as a "conciliatory spirit" which "inspires hopes for a successful result."

Bunche's encouraging report came after the Jews and Arabs agreed swiftly on an agenda for the Rhodes conference and on the procedure to be followed.

The conference, designed merely to arrange an armistice for the Negev desert area, is giving rise to hopes that a settlement of the entire Palestine problem may result.

Bunche, at the first historic meeting of Arab and Israeli government officials yesterday, appealed for all parties concerned in the Palestine question to exercise restraint during the talks.

Minimum Wage Boost To 75 Cents Per Hour Favored

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(INS)—The Wage-Hour Administration told Congress today that the national minimum wage can be boosted to 75 cents an hour without a serious increase in costs to industry or a significant decrease in employment.

Administrator William R. McComb said the action would bolster the "foundations of prosperity."

At the same time, he proposed that tripartite industry committees composed of management, labor and public representatives be authorized to recommend rates above 75 cents up to a maximum fixed by Congress.

McComb described the 75-cent minimum as "an extremely modest approach toward the objective of providing a minimum standard of living to the American workers."

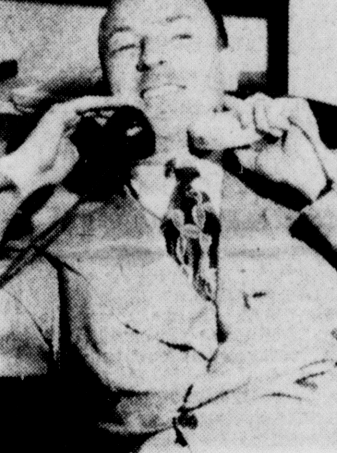

Six German War Criminals Hanged

LANDSBERG, Jan. 14.—(INS)—Six German war criminals were hanged today by order of Gen. Lucius D. Clay, despite the recommendation of an army judicial commission that sentences of five be commuted.

Gen. Clay gave a seventh condemned man, Franz Weiss, a last minute reprieve pending a new study of his case. The commission had recommended he be given a life sentence.

The seven were found guilty in Dachau trials of taking part in beating and other atrocities against captured American fliers, and of bearing responsibility for concentration camp crimes.

Lands In California

Capt. Bill Odom freshens-up while talking on the phone at Oakland, Calif. Airport after bad weather forced him to give up his projected 5300-mile non-stop flight from Hawaii to New York and land in California.

Capt. Bill Odom Will Try Again

Makes New Record But Fails To Complete Flight To New Jersey

OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 14.—(INS)—Capt. Bill Odom brushed off today his newly-established light plane distance record, said it wasn't good enough and announced plans to go back to Honolulu and "try it again."

The 29-year-old pilot, holder of round-the-world marks for both solo and crew-manned flights, yesterday established a new non-stop record of about 2,400 miles in a single-engine plane when he flew from Honolulu to Oakland in 22 hours and six minutes.

But Odom was aiming for the Teterboro, N. J., airport and was disappointed that west coast headwinds and other weather conditions made him cut his flight short.

Although he broke the old small plane record of 2,061 miles set by two Russian fliers in 1937, Odom still believes he can make it in one jump from Hawaii to the U. S. east coast.

Chiang Kai-Shek Ouster Move Is Reported Started

NANKING, Jan. 14.—(INS)—China's vice president and one of her top military leaders were reported today to be sponsoring a move to oust Chiang Kai-shek and pave the way for peace.

Semi-official Nanking sources said Li Tsung-jen and Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi are maintaining "mysterious" contacts aimed at setting the stage for a governmental upheaval which might satisfy communists for ending the civil war.

The behind the scenes maneuvers were reported as the red armies stepped up their pressure against besieged Tientsin and Peiping in an all-out effort to bring all north China under communist domination.

Cleveland, Ohio Holdup Suspect Is Hunted Here

Druggist And One Bandit Shot In Cleveland Holdup Thursday

SECOND BANDIT MAKES GET-A-WAY

Wayne N. Albee, proprietor of the Benfield Drug Company, Lexington avenue, Cleveland, and Donald Smith (also known as Donald Wellendorf) 19, of Huntington, W. Va., and who is known here, are lying in a Cleveland hospital, wounded in a gun battle when Smith and a companion, who is sought here, held up the proprietor shortly before noon Thursday.

According to report from Cleveland Smith and his companion entered the drug store, which is also a post office sub-station, allegedly with drawn guns. Smith ordered Albee to hand over the money. Albee took money from the cash register, laid it on an ice cream counter. It was seized by Smith's companion. Albee was backed by Smith toward a rear room, when he suddenly seized a revolver from a prescription counter.

The bandit Smith, fired several times, it is reported. Albee emptied his gun at the Huntington, W. Va., youth, who collapsed, after being hit.

The second gunman fled from the place, after seizing the revolver Smith had fired.

Albee was shot through the left side. However, his five bullets found their way into Smith's arm and body.

Both Are Critical

Both are in a critical condition. Police found on the wounded gunman, driver's license and army induction card bearing the name "Donald E. Wellendorf."

He refused to talk to authorities until postal authorities came here last night and took two relatives to the Cleveland hospital, where Smith named his accomplice, according to police.

The accomplice is said to be armed with a revolver and a rifle, and is operating a Ford automobile.

City, state police and county detective here are cooperating with Cleveland and postoffice authorities.

According to Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna, the pair are suspected of having been the persons who entered and robbed the Woods block here, and to have held up J. Norman Smith, Croton avenue confectioner, recently.

Chinese Government Plans Counter Drive

(BULLETIN)
NANKING, Jan. 14.—(INS)—Chiang Kai-shek and his topmost militarists decided today on a general counter offensive at placing the Chinese government in a stronger bargaining position in possible peace talks.

It also was learned authoritatively tonight that the counter-drive would be launched within two weeks.

The news came as China's vice president and one of her top military leaders were reported to be sponsoring a move to oust Chiang and pave the way for talks to end the civil strife.

At the same time, more than 50 members of China's parliament attended a "peace forum" while the Communists steadily increased

'One-Package' Bill Labor Measure To Be Presented

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(INS)—Rep. Lesinski (D) Mich., chairman of the House Labor Committee, announced today that he will introduce next week a "one-package" bill repealing the Taft-Hartley law and amending the Wagner Act.

Eskinski said the new measure will substitute for the "two package" bill he introduced Thursday which would repeal the Taft-Hartley Act and restore the Wagner law without amendments recommended by President Truman.

"Pressure" Forces Move

The congressman asserted that "pressure" forced him to submit a labor bill before he was ready. The bill he offered yesterday was identical with that submitted last week by Sen. Thomas (D) Utah, chairman of the Senate Labor Committee.

Lesinski said his final bill will repeal the Taft-Hartley Act, and reenact the Wagner Act with three major amendments asked by the president. They are prohibitions against jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts, and the use of injunctions by the government to prevent strikes affecting the national welfare.

Consumer Demand For Meat May Be Levelling Off Now

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(INS)—The government dropped its first official hint that consumer demand for meat may be leveling off after a steady rise over the past two years.

The agriculture department said in its livestock and meat situation report that consumption per person in the last half of 1948, after allowing for season readjustments, probably was lower than that of any quarter since 1946. The report added:

"Since incomes of consumers have been rising steadily it appears that a smaller percentage of incomes was spent for meat in late 1948."

Consumers normally buy more meat in the fall, but the increase last season was not quite up to average. Meanwhile, prices of meat animals which went up rapidly last spring and summer, came down more than usual.

Committee Of Senate Ready To Vote Today

Final Committee Questioning Of President's Nominee Being Made Today

EXPECT ACTION BEFORE NIGHTFALL

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(INS)—The Senate Foreign Relations committee this afternoon unanimously approved the nomination of Dean Acheson as secretary of state succeeding Gen. George C. Marshall, whose resignation is effective January 20.

The nomination now goes to the Senate, where speedy confirmation of Acheson is expected.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(INS)—Ranking members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee reserved a few confidential questions on United States-Soviet relations for Dean Acheson today before voting to approve his appointment as Secretary of State.

Acheson was called to appear at a closed meeting of the committee today. But both Republicans and Democrats forecast a unanimous committee vote for his confirmation before nightfall.

Few Votes Against

A few votes against Acheson appeared possible when the nomination reaches its final test on the Senate floor early next week. It was a defeated minority, however, Sen. Malone (R) Nev., put it this way:

"If we vote against him we might get something worse."

Sen. George (D) Ga., number two Democrat on the committee, said members want to question Acheson in private today on his specific views on current relations with Russia—the prime problem for any Secretary of State. Senators were hesitant to open a public discussion of this delicate subject because of the security aspects.

The former Undersecretary of State testified for two hours at a Kleig-litigated public hearing Thursday. He frankly replied to published reports questioning some of his past activities and left what members said was a "good impression."

What Committee Was Told

Acheson told the committee that:

1. Charges that he has been an "appeaser" are "incredible." He

What makes the young man smile so much, what makes him walk so spry, what reason is there for cigars, the bright gleam in his eye? Why does he shake each person's hand, why is the proudful strut, does he have reason for these things, he has, and nothing but. I asked him as he passed me by, why all this gleeful joy, and he replied, (and what a grin) "we have another boy." And if I heard the young man right, this is the finest lad, that any mortal couple on this hemisphere has had. Of course he's right, they always are, and so I let him prate about the new lad they have now, the weather's thirty-eight.

and the meeting was closed by saying the Scout promise.

Since the troop's Christmas party had to be postponed due to sickness, a delightful party was held in the home of Mrs. William Walters, the leader, of 235 Hillcrest avenue, January 8. Games were played with prizes going to Patsy Barnes and Susanne Sampson. Each girl made a recording for her parents and gifts were exchanged after a delicious lunch. The table was prettily appointed with red and green crepe paper, centered with a small tree, candles and a miniature poinsetta in a red holder. Favors were small red chimneys and gifts were pulled from a large red chimney by ribbons attached to each gift. Each girl received a scout gift from their leader and a gift was given to Barbara Cartwright for her help with the troop. Mrs. James Matthews assisted Mrs. Walters with the serving.

Following lunch the four girls who will "fly up" January 13, presented a play.

The girls all took small gifts to the meeting with them to be given to sick children at the New Castle hospital.

Medicine Cabinet Raid Is Fatal For Pittsburgh Boy

Youngster, Three, Dies; Brother,
Five, Hospitalized; Ate Salve
By Mistake

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 14.—(INS)—A raid on the medicine cabinet today proved fatal to a three-year-old child and hospitalized his five-year-old brother.

William Whalen was dead and John was reported in a "fair" condition in the Braddock General hospital.

Ate Salve
Mrs. Margaret Whalen, of suburban North Braddock Heights, said that the children ate a salve thinking it was tooth paste. When they became ill she gave them an antidiarrhoeic and both children appeared to respond.

Thursday morning, however, the younger child suffered an attack of convulsions and a doctor ordered both boys sent to a hospital. William died Thursday evening. The coroner has ordered an autopsy.

Volant Lions Hear College Debaters

Members of the Volant Lions' club were given two sides of one of the more important of our nation's problems at their meeting in the Volant Methodist church Tuesday evening. This is the question of whether we should have Federal aid in our schools, and was debated by two members of Westminster's Debate team, John Kersky and Don Huston. No attempt was made to decide which was the winner, the matter being left for discussion by the club members. The ensuing discussion was quite lengthy, carrying the meeting far on past its usual closing hour.

In addition to the twenty-three members present at the dinner and meeting, there were two guests, members of the Harrisville club.

their pressure against besieged Tientsin and Peiping in an all-out effort to bring all North China under Red domination.

Today's extraordinary council of war was held in Chiang's official Nanking residence to which the generalissimo had summoned all of his leading, army, navy and air force commanders.

Chiang was disclosed authoritatively to have laid before his highest military aides a plan calling for the swift regrouping and replacement of the government's battered forces in order to deal one more force counter-blow against the Reds.

The Nationalist counter-offensive, it was decided, should begin within the next fortnight so that the Communists may be beaten to the punch before they unleash their expected all-out smash at Nanking and Shanghai in the final stage of the civil war.

Reliable sources said the counter-drive was planned in a way calculated to improve the Nationalist position in any peace negotiations with the Communists.

HOME SWEET HOME

There have been many songs and poems written about home. "Be it ever so humble there's no place like home."

Although home is the best place of all, it is about the worst place for accidents.

People get hurt at home in many different ways. Falls and burns and bumps and cuts are some of them.

Some of these accidents could perhaps be prevented.

Stair steps should be kept clear. Celler steps should be painted white and well lighted. There should be no slippery rugs near the stairs.

Open fires should be safely screened.

Knives and other sharp things should be kept where children cannot get them.

Probably there will always be accidents. By talking about them perhaps some may be avoided.

First legislation barring Communists from the ballot was adopted by Indiana in 1933.

Probe To Start In Pittsburgh

State To Investigate Pittsburgh Inheritance Tax Office Situation; Seek To Locate Funds

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 14.—(INS)—The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will begin an investigation today of its Pittsburgh inheritance tax office.

The probe reportedly was ordered following the confusion arising from the death last January 3 of former Allegheny County Register of Wills John M. Huston.

Since Huston's death, officials have been unable to locate some $38,000 in funds he was believed to have had when he died. The courts have ruled that sum, plus a $34,000 interest, is due the state for excessive fees collected by Huston during his 10-year term of office.

The Pittsburgh inheritance tax office wrote $304,455.20 in checks to Huston and apparently now can't find the receipts.

Robert Patton, cashier of the inheritance tax office in Pittsburgh, admitted that he didn't know where the canceled checks were.

But John D. Carlisle, Pittsburgh office auditor, said that he hopes to find out, he added.

"Other missing things will be probed today, too."

levies on corporations, gifts and estates, and possibly on "middle and upper" incomes of individuals.

Truman Middle Bracket
The president told a news conference Thursday that by "middle bracket" he meant individual incomes of more than $6,000 a year and up to 25 or 30 thousand dollars annually. After that, he stated, the "upper bracket" would begin.

Rep. Dingell (R-Mich.), a staunch administration supporter, said that any increase in individual taxes should begin with $20,000 incomes, while Rep. Eberhardt (D-Pa.), said it might start with $16,000.

It is believed that the committee will thoroughly explore all other avenues of revenue raising before tackling increases in individual income taxes.

Forand's proposal for repeal of excise taxes has had strong support in the past from other committee members, including Rep. Doughton (D) N.C., committee chairman.

It would eliminate the wartime rates which went into effect after 1942 on women's handbags, baby oil, light bulbs, transportation, telegrams, telephone calls, furs, liquor, wine, beer, theatres and other amusements.

Forand said that Congress "promised" when it enacted the wartime rates that they would terminate with the end of the war. They were scheduled to end July 1, 1947, but the president asked Congress to extend the rates for another year because the revenue was needed. The Republican 80th Congress extended the war excise taxes indefinitely.

cited numerous speeches and statements of his supporting his claim that he had fought totalitarianism.

2. He is still a friend of both Alger Hiss, indicted for perjury as a result of the Communist spy inquiry, and Donald Hiss, his brother. But Acheson made it plain he as Secretary of State will continue to fight subversive influences in the State Department. He said Donald Hiss, now his law partner, was his assistant in the State Department but denied that Alger ever held a post directly under him.

3. He never shared financial return from his law firm's dealings with the Polish government while Acheson was Undersecretary of State.

Acheson said the firm's fee was $50,175—not one million dollars as reported.

4. He promised "no change whatever" in U.S. foreign policy.

Acheson emphasized that he did not expect to fill the shoes of Gen. George Marshall, his predecessor, but would carry out the policies laid down by President Truman.

Acheson also explained, voluntarily, that members of his law firm including Donald Hiss had been retained at one time to represent the Arabian-American Oil Company (Aramco).

The secretary-designate said his partners attempted to obtain for Aramco an income surtax reduction similar to that which is granted oil companies operating in Latin-America. Aramco operates in Iran and the Middle East.

Missing Treasurer's Accounts Audited; Shortage Is Shown

MIDDLEBURG, Pa., Jan. 14.—(INS)—An audit of books of Snyder county's missing treasurer by the State Auditor General's office today showed $1,170 unaccounted for in the commonwealth's accounts.

Deputy Auditor General James F. McFadden uncovered the apparent shortage after checking the books of Ray G. F. Leach, of Selinsgrove, who disappeared January 4. McFadden's audit covered state funds only. County funds will be subject to a separate audit. McFadden said the audit showed shortages totaling $2,013 in the fish, game and hunting license funds. It also showed, however, $843 deposited to the state's credit in a bank.

The 22-year-old treasurer disappeared after notifying his office that he was ill. Several days later, his secretary received a brief note from Leach stating "I just broke up."

Snyder county auditors have petitioned Gov. James H. Duff to declare the office vacant and appoint a successor to Leach. Duff turned the request over to the State Justice department for an official ruling.

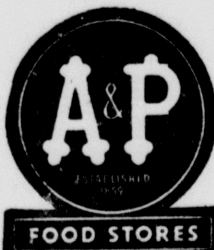

Auto Industry Production Back To 100,000 Week

DETROIT, Jan. 14.—(INS)—Automotive News estimated today that the auto industry is back to the 100,000-a-week rate again in the production of passenger cars and trucks.

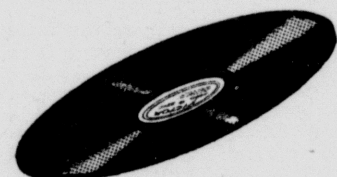

The trade newspaper reported U. S. output this week will include 100,976 vehicles, compared with 97,893 last week.

"Production step-ups in progress at Chevrolet and Pontiac promise to offset cutbacks announced earlier this week by Lincoln-Mercury and Kaiser-Frazer," Automotive News asserted.

The publication also pointed out that Ford and Studebaker have announced plans to boost their car and truck production rates later this year.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Hazards of Being a First Child

It seems to be common for eager and earnest young parents to set very high standards for their first child. When I've discussed this in parent groups and mentioned how much more relaxed we usually are with children that follow, there are frequently many understanding smiles.

Probably part of the cause for this is our anxiety to prove that we can do a good job. Another factor is lack of experience. We haven't learned through our own contacts with babies that they can take a lot. Whether they are always spic and span doesn't make so much difference. It won't even matter much if routines aren't kept too strictly as long as the infant seems to be happy with what is happening. But it takes experience to teach us this. Our first efforts at bringing up a baby are deadly serious. We want our particular offspring to be treated as nearly perfectly as possible.

One can hope that some people can learn from others' experiences, though this doesn't happen too often. To prospective parents, then, those of you who are eagerly waiting your first youngster, we old experienced fathers and mothers say, "Try to enjoy your baby first of all. Don't take things too seriously. Give your child a normal amount of physical care; a lot of loving, and play down the training angle. He'll get on to that soon enough. The most important thing is to have fun and relax."

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

One of the most colorful and little-known villages of the Middle East, a prize of war for centuries, is back into prominence today.

It is Aqaba, which lies at the extreme southern tip of Trans-Jordan on the Red Sea, where Britain has sent troop reinforcements and plans to keep them there in accordance with Foreign Secretary Bevin's "get-tough-with-Israel" policy.

For all its ancient history and ups and downs in the passage of time, Aqaba is important at the moment as an extremely vital point in the British "lifeline" between the Suez Canal and Baghdad.

Britain is convinced that sooner or later an expanding Israel will seek to dominate Aqaba and she is equally determined to retain it even at the risk of war.

Importance In Location
Its importance lies almost solely in its geographical position, which was recognized and taken advantage of as far back as Imperial Roman days. It stands at the point where Trans-Jordan joins the southernmost tip of the Palestine Negev desert and at the tip of the eastern northerly arm of the Red Sea.

With British troops firmly entrenched at Aqaba an attack by sea is virtually impossible. The Gulf of Aqaba is dotted by innumerable coral reefs and subject to sudden squalls of great intensity sweeping down from the mountains.

With Aqaba in Great Britain's hands it is possible for British supplies to be shipped directly overland all the way from Port Said to Baghdad, a distance of 800 miles. The road runs across the middle of Egypt's Sinai peninsula and from Aqaba drives across Saudi Arabia into Iraq.

Important Base
There is an important military base at Habbaniya near Baghdad. It was restored some months ago to Iraqi control but the British Royal Air Force still has full use of it and the base constitutes one of the most important outposts of the Union Jack in the Middle East.

Aqaba's only weakness as an otherwise impregnable garrison is the fact that once in its long history it was captured from the barren, inhospitable land side.

This was one of the feats of the famed Lawrence of Arabia who in 1917 led his desert warriors into the city in a revolt against Turkey which paid such great dividends for Britain during the First World War.

A key-point in the treaty of alliance between Britain and Trans-Jordan, Aqaba is a spot that all Arab nations are glad to see in British hands.

Unless the trackless deserts are used, it is on the only route from Egypt to Mecca and its palm-lined streets are filled every hour of every day with colorful caravans of pilgrims making the sacred journey.

Mystery In Movements
Considerable mystery has surrounded British military movements (Continued on Page Six)

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Probably I shouldn't be writing this.

It may not be good for the kids.

When you read about all the fuss being made over how the comics ruin our young generation, you are afraid to open your mouth, for fear someone may come along and say you are ruining the children by just saying "boo".

However, that's another story. What I want to tell you about is an item I just read in my morning paper.

Because it reminds me so much of what my father used to say when I was approaching the age when temptation wiggles its finger so pleasantly and says "come and try me".

Father had been pretty well through the mill. While he believed in Santa Claus to the very end, I am sure he didn't believe in fairies.

He used to say to me: "Be good, boy. Be as good as you can. But, above all, be careful."

What made me think of it was the story about Clyde McCoy, the bandleader, who is quitting the tooting game after thirty-one years as a bandleader, and opening a flower shop in Memphis, Tenn.

If you don't know about Clyde McCoy, he is the fellow who made up the "Sugar Blues" so popular. And if you never heard the "Sugar Blues", or of the "Sugar Blues", it may interest you to know that his recordings of that one song netted him more than $40,000.

Well, Clyde McCoy never claimed to be a philosopher. But his outlook on life seems to be something like what my father's used to be.

He, too, believes in being good. And he believes in being good because any careful person knows better than to be bad.

Clyde McCoy, as a bandleader, has been around night spots a lot. So he doesn't believe in drinking. Not because of any moralistic principle, but because he has seen what drink can do to people.

He doesn't believe in gambling. Not because good people don't gamble, but because careful people don't gamble.

McCoy has seen too many drunks and too many gamblers cluttering up the gutters from San Francisco to Boston.

And here is something he said I like especially well.

"I never wanted to be at the top," he said to the reporter. "I was right where I wanted to be, with some of them up over me and a lot of 'em down under me."

"When you're at the top, there's only one way to go, and that's down. Fellows like Wayne King, Ted Weems and myself—we were in a good bracket."

McCoy is only 45. But he thinks that's too old for a bandleader.

And furthermore, he wants to have his flowers while he can enjoy them. They won't do him much good when they are made into wreaths. (Copyright, 1949, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Help at Home

The family have a small dairy farm, country store and post office. The children help about the place. Often these boys wash the dishes for their mother. In summer they drive the cows to and from the pasture fields. Both boys fish in the brook close by but while alone avoid the deep places where their fish only when followed by their parents or other adults. Unfortunately, these boys have not learned to swim. While they have some money of their own to spend, they are learning thrift.

When the elder boy was about three he stuttered badly. The parents studied and followed my bulletin on "Stuttering in the Young Child" (which anybody else may have in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.) and the stuttering gradually disappeared and has never returned. Both boys were held strictly to the afternoon nap till school attendance interrupted. The elder has been taking piano lessons for two years and the younger for a year, going ten miles each week with their mother for the lessons. "Do you have any trouble to get them to practice?" I asked the mother recently. "No," she replied, "they seem to do it willingly but, of course, they know they have to do it. Each one, especially the elder, gets great pleasure from being able to play."

These boys have learned in other ways that some things are to be done regularly. As a result, music skill has developed. Enjoyment from achievement lessens the drudgery of practice and more to pleasure.

So we are just back where we started from . . . wondering if we can stand it all a few more days . . . to win a bet.

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Forrestal Breaks His Silence

Editor's Note—One of the key officials in President Truman's cabinet and certainly one of the most discussed figures, Secretary of Defense Forrestal, recently has been the target of much criticism. In an exclusive interview granted to Marquis Childs, veteran Washington correspondent, Secretary Forrestal breaks his silence and reveals for the first time his position on several controversial issues. This is the first of two articles.

Carried Further
From this attack has been carried one step further to link him with Secretary of State George C. Marshall and Under Secretary Robert Lovett, both to retire in a week, as sponsors of an anti-Russian foreign policy. He has been called a warmonger and his resignation has been predicted and freely anticipated by his attackers.

During this period Secretary Forrestal has said nothing. Because it seemed important to me to try to get some idea of his views, I submitted questions to him related to the attacks made on him. Now that it is clear that he will remain in the cabinet indefinitely, which means at least a year, his answers have an even greater interest. The questions and the answers by Secretary Forrestal follow.

Question: Do you have any interest in Dillon, Read & Co. that has continued down to the present? If so, what is the nature of that interest? If you were to retire, would you go back to Dillon, Read?

Answer: I do not have, and have not had since 1940, any interest in Dillon, Read & Co. I have made no plans for my activity when I retire from government service.

Question: In your opinion would Dillon, Read benefit if industry in the Ruhr were restored to private ownership prior to the present?

Answer: I have no knowledge of the activities or interests of that firm at the present time, but I see no likelihood of any American investment participation in the industry of the Ruhr.

Have No Opinion
Question: Are you in favor of restoring industry in the Ruhr to the German corporations that held ownership prior to 1940?

Answer: This question has not been asked of me before. (Continued on Page Six)

NEW YORK—Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the American Medical Journal . . . "President Truman's health program is a system of medical care administered by a bureaucracy."

NEW YORK—Maj. Gen. Frederic Osborn . . . "There will be no relief from world tensions until national rivalries over atomic weapons are eliminated."

JOBS UPON A TIME

BUSTER KEATON, the stony-faced comedian of silent screen days, is returning to the films after several years' absence. Buster started his business and professional life in vaudeville, with his parents when he was a baby, in an act titled, "The Three Keatons". He started his screen roles supporting the late Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, comedian of silent days. Then Buster became a star, first in shorts, then in feature comedies. Since 1928, Buster has played many supporting roles, and in 1943 appeared in "Forever and a Day".

UNITED STATES Senator Robert S. Kerr, wealthy oilman, ex-governor of his state of Oklahoma, was admitted to the bar in 1922, and practiced in Ada, Okla. From that profession he turned to the business of drilling contractor and oil producer in 1926, and is now partner in an oil industries corporation. Senator Kerr was elected governor of Oklahoma, and served from January, 1942, to January, 1947. In 1947, he was key-note of the national Democratic convention, and is a member of the Democratic national committee from Oklahoma.

President And Louis Beau

(By Holmes Alexander)

President Truman behind his office door is an alert, well-informed, decisive man as befits one who heads the largest free enterprise corporation in the world. When a big industrial decision is due, as in the case of steel production, a group of the President's advisers meet in the White House office room. They go over the data and, when they've come as close as is humanly possible to agreement, the President comes briskly across the hall and joins the group at their work table.

The advisers "brief" the President on their findings and pose their differences. Mr. Truman makes his decision quickly and in crisp language. Often it is necessary for him to refer to the working script of an unfinished report. He has good "hands" on a manuscript, turning deftly to the reference page and paragraph, reading quickly and giving his opinion with hardy and a haw. Ten years in the Senate and nearly four in the White House, plus the exhilarating victory of November 2nd, have made Mr. Truman a man who knows his material and knows his mind.

Where Does He Get Material?
But where does he get his material? In the case of steel he gets a lot of it, directly or indirectly, from Louis H. Beau, an economist in the Agricultural Department. Last year Beau published a statistical study of political trends called "How to Predict Elections." On the last page of the text he made this prediction which is significant in showing the trend of his thinking:

"The incoming political tide of the 1950's will mark the era of further progress toward the full use of our resources and will be known as the full employment era."

Beau has related this theory to the present steel policy. "Don't write anything about steel," a Presidential adviser told me, "until you talk with Louis Beau." I have now done so and can present his views which so clearly influence the President's thinking.

Steel Capacity: Beau has constructed a chart which shows the rising line of capacity from about 3 million tons in 1884 to 78 million tons in 1934. Had the line been projected in the same rising degree, steel capacity in 1948 would have been 104 million tons. It was actually 96 million tons. If we project the line to 1950, the capacity would be 110 million tons. Present estimates for 1950 are about 99 million tons.

So on the Beau theory we are operating well below our potential capacity. His charts show that capacity dropped off in 1934-37 and then resumed a climb which hit its peak in 1945. But even this wartime, full-employment peak is 2 million tons below what it should have been, according to Beau. The theory which he brought to the White House is that steel, unlike many other industries, never really recovered from the depression.

Steel Production: Beau, an agricultural economist, thinks of steel in terms of a consumer commodity, like wheat. Another of his charts in the consumption per person of steel in America. The line shows the consumption per person of steel in America in 1900 (excluding war years) runs from 300 pounds per American in 1900 to 1300 pounds in 1941. If the line showing the nation's "appetite" for steel were projected, we should be producing about 1350 million tons per individual today. Beau's theory means that every person in the U. S. "needs" about two-thirds of a ton every year. By 1950, with population hitting 150 million, we would need at least 100 million tons per year of production. To do this, our capacity would have to be set at about 110 million tons to take care of strikes and other work stoppages.

Steel and Employment: Beau sees a relation between steel production and the problem of peacetime employment. The years of full employment (actually about 97 per cent) show that steel production makes a rising line from about 0.8 tons-per-job in 1906 to about 1.6 tons-per-job in 1941. If the full employment line were extended, Beau finds that we should have produced 1.8 tons-per-job last year, or a total production of 104 million tons for 58 million workers. Actually we produced only 88 million tons. This means that, according to Beau, that employment is being "undermined" by a steel shortage. The steel industry, of course, does not accept the Beau theories. But there is good reason to believe that Mr. Truman does. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Hints On Etiquette

Thoughtfulness and consideration for other people's feelings are the height of good manners as well as a way to "make friends and influence people." Estimate the good points of the people with whom you associate; ignore their less desirable ones.

The World and the Mud Puddles

BETTING AND THE POLLS

The difference of opinion which is said to be responsible for horse-racing, crops out in many ways in the life of Americans. Almost anywhere you go to buy a cigar, a newspaper or—apologetically—a drink, you find tickets on a football pool, guessing right on which will get you much. You eve had offers on the World Series and the pre-World Series contest. The strange thing is that so little heed is given by the gaming fraternity to the national elections. It is probable that the actual wagering on the winning of the presidency of the United States was a decimal point of the wagering on favorite football teams at the time of the election.

This, in one way, may be a good sign. The law says you shall not gamble on the sacred issue of elections, national congressional or local. But the law in this case, as in many others, is more honored in the breach than in the observance. When people get intensive about politics they bet—bet on their feelings rather than their brains.

Extremely Modest
In the recent national election the betting was extremely modest. This may be attributable partly to the wariness on the part of bettors toward a sure thing. If the old spirit were alive, as in the Cleveland-Blaire days, the champions would not let a silly little thing like reason interfere with the financial backing of the heart's choice.

What we started out to say in the beginning was to wonder how the pollsters and surveyors felt when the real returns were in. Most readers will remember that the poll of a magazine called the Literary Digest was so absurdly erroneous that it practically put the publication out of business—although no issue was ever raised as to the integrity of its canvass.

There has been some criticism of election polls as being inspired by political or personal perverse notions. Only a short time ago we heard these polls and surveys de-

Two Air Force Men Sentenced To Be Hanged

TOKYO, Jan. 14.—(INS)—Two U. S. air force men were sentenced to hang for the robbery-murder in Japan of a post exchange book-keeper from Columbus, O.

Doomed to the gallows by an air force court martial were Privates James Burks, of Cullman, Ala., and Robert Keller, of Covington, Ind. A third defendant, Pvt. Robert Baughman, of Connelville, Pa., was sentenced to life imprisonment and dishonorable discharge. Victim of the slaying was Sgt.

Paul Wilburn. He was killed last December 3 by robbers who awakened him in his post exchange quarters at the Tachikawa Air Base near Tokyo.

All three defendants had pleaded innocent.

Postpone Trial Of Lada In Berlin

BERLIN, Jan. 14.—(INS)—A U. S. military court on Thursday granted a defense motion to postpone until January 25 the trial of Edward Lada, the love-sick veteran who ran the Berlin blockade. The court denied a second defense request for bail. Lada was originally supposed to go on trial tomorrow.

Lada, a former paratrooper from Newark, N. J., showed up in Berlin several weeks ago, claiming he wanted to be with Ruth Riecke, said to be the mother of his child.

Later he decided he was in love with another fraulein, Ursula Schmidt, but at last reports the Newark Romeo wanted to marry Ruth.

Lada was imprisoned for entering Germany illegally, but escaped. He was recaptured and now faces several charges.

In 1871, the Chicago fire killed more than 200, made nearly 100,000 homeless, destroyed 17,450 buildings and caused damage estimated at $200,000,000.

Bridge Steel Bids Are Still Pending

Ancient Deeds Recorded For Property In Pollock Township—Where Was It?

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

Bids for the steel necessary to improve three county bridges have again been held up pending a decision upon a line or two in the advertising.

Three bids were received. One was thrown out when the bid was made for welded steel floors instead of riveted. In the other two bids some interpretation is necessary to ascertain the delivery point of the steel, whether it is to be FOB plant or FOB New Castle. A contract will likely be awarded Monday.

WHERE WAS POLLOCK TOWNSHIP?

Four old deeds were recorded in the Register and Recorder's office this week, all of them concerning property in Pollock township, Lawrence county.

The deeds were originally made in 1863 and have been in the White family since. Recently a sale was made of the properties and it was necessary to record the old deeds. Where was Pollock township? From an old plot it looks as though it was a five hundred acre plot which took in what is now part of the third ward. Part of it was what is now Main street but no one seems to know how far south it went.

Pollock township is believed to have been named for the late Dr. Joseph Pollock, a famous pioneer physician of New Castle.

SUITS ARE FILED

Total damages of $66,255.88 are asked in two suits filed against Wendell D. Rubright and Elizabeth R. Lewis of Butler county and James A. Wagner of Volant, by Thomas Ralph Young and Calista L. Young, of New Castle.

In the claim it is charged that on February 2, 1947, Mr. Young and his wife were driving on Route 18 in Wilmington township, near the Mercer county line. The steering gear of the Young car went bad and the car careened across the road.

A truck of the defendants, driven by Wagner, came down the highway and crashed into the car, injuring both Mr. and Mrs. Young. He asks $51,255, and his wife asks $15,000.

Frank W. Weddell trading as the General Fire Covering company files a suit against Charles H. Johnson, Jr., for $580.80 allegedly due upon a contract.

ASK DIVORCE

Robert Alexander Wheale of 907 Franklin avenue asks a divorce from Vivian D. Wheale, 907 Franklin avenue, upon the grounds of indignities to person. They were married November 20, 1945 in New Castle.

Virginia Capito, 471 East Washington street, asks a divorce from Nick Capito of 300 East Washington street upon the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment and indignities to person. They were married July 27, 1925 in Mercer.

SENTENCES PASSED

Clarence Jenkins, plea to drunken driving, was fined $100 and costs and three months to the county jail. He will be released upon the payment of the fine and costs as he has been in the county jail six days. Judge W. Walter Brahm pronounced sentence.

Warren Robert Catron, plea to a charge of larceny of a motor vehicle was fined $200 and costs and will be placed upon probation when he pays the fine and costs.

Panther Club To Observe Ninth Year Sunday

Dinner-Dance Starts At 6 P.M. At The Castleton For Members, Wives, And Guests

Panther club members have completed plans for the observance of their ninth anniversary, which will be held in the form of a dinner-dance Sunday evening, January 16, at The Castleton.

As principal speaker of the evening the assembly will hear the well known attorney from Pittsburgh, Pa., Judge Francis J. Zappala, a member of the state legislature and former police magistrate of Pittsburgh. The Panthers club is fortunate in obtaining the services of Judge Zappala who is widely known in New Castle.

The previous announcement made that Charles J. Margiotti, attorney of Pittsburgh, scheduled as the speaker, has been changed due to an emergency which takes Mr. Margiotti to Washington, D. C., making it impossible for him to journey to New Castle on Sunday.

Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso, assistant pastor of St. Vitus church will give the invocation. Toastmaster of the evening is Alderman J. J. Biondi.

Immediately following the 6 o'clock dinner an entertaining floor show will be presented. An out of town orchestra has been engaged to provide the music for dancing. Dancing will continue until 1 p.m.

Guests have been invited throughout the vicinity and those from out of town who will attend are from Beaver Falls, Pittsburgh, Ellwood City and Youngstown, O.

Representatives of the various civic and community groups invited include Edward DeCarbo, commander of the New Castle Catholic War Veterans; Nicholas Casalandra, president of Duke of Abruzzi; C. Clause, president of Rinascenza lodge; Andrew Biondi, president of Ellwood City Sons of Italy; and Steve Rubino, president of Ellwood City Victor Emmanuel club.

The committee in charge is headed by D. E. Cioffi and F. A. Macchia, the general chairmen. Others are A. C. Ricciardi, Joseph A. Clavelli, Joseph J. Punio, Nicholas Casalandra, Joseph Panella, Louis G. Gaspare, Michael Manto, Daniel DeCarlo, Angelo Colella, John Fuleno and William J. Russo.

nounced as inspired by ulterior motives. The thing that ought to be remembered by intelligent and fair-minded persons is that political polling and surveying is a modern business, and that survival of the business depends on public confidence. Polls and surveys may be wrong, but it can be set down as a matter of common business sense that they are never intentionally wrong. Reputation in the polling and surveying business is even more important than in the business of manufacturing soap and stockings.

O course there is no means of estimating the accuracy or inaccuracy of the various polls and prognostications of the Gallups and others. But one thing may be taken for granted. They have done their very best to interpret popular sentiment and report it in accordance with the facts. If they have erred, their error is unintentional, because their only asset is the faith and confidence of the public.

ments in the Middle East since the new crisis developed with the shooting down of five Royal Air Force reconnaissance planes near the frontier of Egypt and Palestine.

Neither Trans-Jordan nor Egypt has pressed any demand for active British military assistance although King Abdullah sent a note that resulted in the dispatch of reinforcements to Agaba.

However, both are fully entitled to do so under the terms of their treaties. British officials explain that naval movements in and around Malta, Cyprus and Suez are more or less routine, based upon the possibility that the Arab nations at any time might decide upon full-scale invasion.

Should they do so and extended hostilities develop, Agaba will become increasingly familiar to the western world.

First lighthouse in the U. S. was built at the entrance of Boston's harbor in 1716.

come before me and I have no opinion.

Question: In your opinion is it possible to restore capitalism of the American free enterprise type in western Europe and specifically to western Germany?

Answer: I find it impossible to predict the form of business enterprise which will prevail in western Europe and western Germany.

Question: Do you believe that war with communism, as represented by the Soviet Union and the satellite countries, is almost certain to come within, say, a decade?

Answer: No one in a free democracy ever can accept war as inevitable. Any concept of war initiated by the United States is unthinkable.

Question: What, in your opinion, are the prospects for peace in the next two or three years?

Answer: If we can maintain a reasonable degree of military strength and conduct ourselves with calmness and reason, I think peace can be maintained.

Question: What is your role in helping to shape American foreign policy?

Shaped By President

Answer: American foreign policy is shaped by the president. The department of state acts as his agent in the expression of that policy. The national military establishment takes part only to the extent of its statutory responsibilities as a participant in the national security council, which is charged with the duty of advising the president with respect to the integration of domestic, foreign and military policies so as to enable the military services and the other departments and agencies of government to co-operate more effectively in matters involving national security.

Question: What is your explanation for the attacks directed against you in recent weeks?

Answer: I do not have reliable information which would enable me to answer this question.

Other men want Secretary Forrestal's job. That may be a source of the attacks. But even if the rivals now subside, he will remain as will be shown in a following column, a controversial figure.

Fire Losses In Nation Discussed By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright—1949—Publishers Financial Bureau, Incorporated

NEW YORK CITY, Jan. 14.—
Last year U. S. property was destroyed by needless fires amounting to $700,000,000. In addition

Roger W. Babson
and happy today.

Cause Of Fires

About 25 per cent of the fires are due to smoking—mostly cigarette smoking. About 20 per cent are due to defective wiring, overloading present wires and misuse of flexible cords. Fifteen per cent of the fire are set; while the balance are due to various causes. These mostly could be classified as "carelessness and bad housekeeping".

It is also interesting to note that most fires start in basements of homes, factories and stores. If basements were kept clean, the total fire loss could be reduced 30 per cent. Closets and attics are also a source of danger. I hope each reader of this column will start 1949 by giving his basement, attic and closets a good cleaning out.
Don't be afraid to throw stuff away!

Back Your Firemen

Considering the tremendous loss stated above, you at first think that the fire departments have been lax and inefficient. This is not so. I believe that the fire departments of our cities are the most efficient of all city departments. Just think —if it were not for your fire department your entire city would now be in ashes.

Also remember that all fires are ultimately extinguished by the fire departments before the lost amounts to $50. This is pretty good and usually is due to someone quickly pulling a little red fire box.
In fact, there never was a fire (unless caused by explosion) which could not have been extinguished by one bucket of water if discovered in time.

Listen To Your Fire Chief

When your city council or selectmen ask the advice of their health or legal department or building inspector they act upon the advice.
When, however, the fire chief asks for new equipment or more fire alarm boxes he is partly given the brush off. This is wrong.

Fire chiefs know what is best for their city and the taxpayers.
Hence, all their requests for appropriations should be granted, including recommendations for salary increases. Considering their responsibilities, the firemen and their chief are the poorest paid of all city employees. Your fire chief is your best friend.

Suggestions To Readers

The best kind of fire protection is a sprinkler system connected with the fire alarm system. Another less expensive but very efficient system, is the so-called "Vig-ilant Rate-of-Rise" system, connected with the fire department.
This does not extinguish the fire as do sprinklers but it automatically calls the fire department before the fire gets underway.

For most things, either of the above systems is perfect protection. For a tenant in a block of stores it is only partial protection.

He may do all he can to protect his store; but if a restaurant is next door without protection, then the careful storekeeper is handicapped.
Legislation should be enacted so when the majority of the property owners of any city block want sprinkler or automatic protection, all the property owners in this block must join.

Fire Alarm Boxes

The little red fire alarm box on the corner of your street is also a friend of yours. And be sure that there is a box at each corner so that whichever way you or some passer-by runs, he will quickly find a box to pull. This is especially important as so many fires start when no one is in the home, store or building and the fire chief is dependent upon a passer-by.

To depend upon a telephone is dangerous. In the excitement the telephone operator or the fire department often misunderstands the correct address. Too many street names sound alike and too many excited women, telephone only:
"Come quickly my house is on fire." without giving any address!

Driftwood on the seashore burns with a brightly colored flame because wood that has been soaked in sea water has absorbed chemicals containing calcium, potassium and sodium. Such salts or compounds give off strong colors when heated sufficiently.

Registration Of Bicycles Halts Most Of Thefts

Registration of bicycles here has eliminated considerable work on the part of the city police department. Rarely nowadays is a bicycle stolen, where previously it was not uncommon to have several reported stolen each week.

At one time quite a number of bicycles were stolen, taken apart and the parts put on other bicycles, which made identification difficult. However, the gang was rounded up.

Approximately 2,000 bicycles are registered here.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 14.—This is Hollywood. Mister Jones'—California's "big freeze"—provoked more screwball antics in Hollywood than you'd ever find in one of the old Keystone Kop comedies... but the best touch was provided by that glamour gal who rushed out and bought a bunch of electric blankets to drape around some of her prize rose bushes.

Jane Russell, who has an avocado orchard on her new ranch, had them all nipped by the frost and lost a small fortune. Amateur photographers bought all available camera film in town to snap the snow. Joan Leslie took pictures of the deep freeze, had them developed in an hour and rushed them to her mother, who is critically ill and couldn't get up to witness the winter wonderland.

Joan Plans Return
Joan, incidentally, is reading five movie scripts for her screen "comeback," now that her three-year legal squabble with Warner's has been settled. Bing Crosby is paying her to co-star in his next flicker... Jeanne Crain probably will have had her new baby by the time you read this...

Child's Colds
To relieve misery without dosing, rub on VICKS VAPORUB ture-length movie, "The Squaw Man," back in 1913.

William has been in pictures 32 years, with nearly 300 parts to his credit. He was on the stage at the age of 16 with a Shakespearean troupe. He entered pictures in 1916.

Can Remember Lines
Today, his vigor is fabulous—not to mention his ability to memorize lines.

Farnum staggered the DeMille company during a rehearsal of "Samson and Delilah" by going through four pages of dialogue for the wedding scene, without a halt or an error.

"I wish," commented DeMille, "the young bucks on this show could remember their lines as well and speak them as beautifully."

Victor Mature grinned feebly.

Reports Received From Heads Of Committees; Four Deacons, Two Elders Re-Elected

At the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, the regular annual meeting of the congregation was held on Wednesday evening, with a good attendance. Rev. Howard A. Redmond, the pastor, was moderator. Minutes were read and approved of the last congregational meeting, by the secretary, E. O. Farver.

The neurology report showed nine deaths during the past year; this was followed by prayer by the pastor. Reports were given by heads of all the committees, which were turned over to the clerk of the sessions, Mr. Farver.

There was the re-election of four deacons, whose terms had expired: William Bollinger, Paul Fisher, Mrs. Paul Bender, and Mrs. Ralph Urey. Re-election of two elders, whose terms had expired, Dr. F. W. Guy and W. F. McClurg.

Report Frozen Water Pipes In California

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCann, West Clayton street, have just received word from their daughter, Mrs. Robert Ricker of San Francisco, Calif., to the effect that their water pipes were frozen for a time and they were unable to secure water for their home.

Excited neighbors calling the water company to discover what the trouble was did not learn anything from the utility company. Mrs. Ricker found that the pipes were frozen but the neighbors refused to believe her story.

According to reports, this is the first time such a thing has happened there for 57 years. Even the flowers outdoors seem to be scalded as though hot water was poured on them.

Columbus Auxiliary Officers Installed

At Christopher Columbus hall, members of Columbus Auxiliary met on Wednesday evening, with Mrs. Mary Iovannella presiding.

Find Woman Alive At Plane Wreck After Five Days

Three Others Are Dead In Crash
In Mountains Near Bakersfield, Calif.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Jan. 14.—(INS)—A 24-year-old woman was found alive Thursday in the wreckage of a plane which crashed five days ago in the snow-shrouded Tehachapi mountains southeast of Bakersfield.

The survivor of the tragedy, Mrs. James De Freitas of Southgate, Calif., lay critically injured alongside the bodies of her husband and two other persons killed in the crash.

Despite her injuries she had survived a two-day snowstorm and some of the coldest temperatures on record in California, ranging down to 11 above zero.

A rescue party rushed through huge snow drifts to reach the wreckage of the plane.

Heading the rescue party was Dr. Richard Dykes of Taft, Calif., who last year was rescued with his wife from a mountain peak in Utah, where their plane had been forced down.

Dykes' rescue was aided by Robert Gloe of Santa Monica who, ironically, was one of the three persons found dead in the wreckage of the plane.

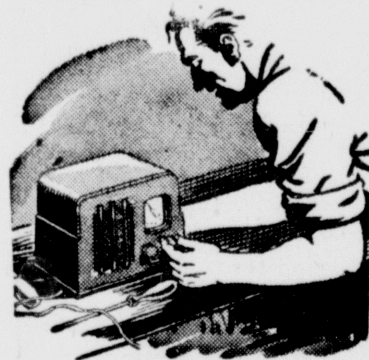

The rescue party sent word back to Bakersfield that Gloe, Mrs. De Freitas' husband and Mrs. Eve Williams of Taft were all dead.

Dr. Dykes reported Mrs. De Freitas was able to mumble her name when rescuers reached her. He administered medical attention while awaiting arrival of an ambulance dispatched from Bakersfield.

The plane, owned by Dr. Dykes, was en route to Taft from Southern California and was last heard from when Gloe talked to the Bakersfield Airport by radio late Saturday afternoon.

More nickels are used than any other American coin.

Red Cross Blood Donor Program Has First Anniversary

Peace Time Plan Has Had Many Usages Since Starting In Rochester Last Year

The first regional center in the blood program of the American National Red Cross celebrated its first birthday. Since the establishment of this first center at Rochester, N. Y., on January 12, 1948, a total of 19 programs have been activated in many sections of the nation.

Growth of the program has been marked by a careful and consistent planning. Its development from the initial blood donor services of the Red Cross chapters back in 1937 closely parallels the impetus given to the increased uses of blood during World War II.

The Lawrence County Chapter of the American Red Cross, in co-operation with the Lawrence County Medical Society, recently launched the local blood donor program for the benefit of Lawrence county hospitals.

Varied Usage

The dramatic uses of the blood provided by the program run the gamut from underpar patients about to undergo surgery to complete exchange transfusions for babies suffering erythroblastosis, a serious blood condition caused by Rh factor complications. Lives of mothers suffering childbirth hemorrhage have been saved by blood from Red Cross centers; chronic anemias and sufferers from leukemia have had their life span extended; badly burned children and adults have been given that extra chance for survival.

In addition to the whole blood which flowed from donors through regional centers to the physicians for the ill and injured in communities now covered by the blood program, the country as a whole is reaping vast benefits from the blood and blood derivative services of Red Cross.

Great Monetary Value
During the fiscal year 1947-1948 the value of blood plasma and blood fractions supplied by Red Cross reached an estimated commercial value of $17,000,000.

Most of the plasma and derivatives now being distributed by Red Cross are dividends from the generosity of the American people during the stress of war.

By the end of the tenth month of operation, 82,279 pints of blood had been contributed by volunteers through the regional centers of the program. This blood has been furnished physicians for treatment of the ill and injured. The Red Cross makes no charge for this service. Recipient patients, however, are responsible for payment of the charges made for the administration of the blood and for any other service undertaken by the physician or hospital to safeguard the patient.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A slightly passe Hollywood matinee idol was hauled into a Santa Monica courthouse, charged with driving a car while intoxicated. "I note by your record," said the judge severely, "that you were arrested for the same offense twice."

In 1937, four times in 1938 and six times in 1939, but were never convicted once. Can you explain that? "I can," said the defendant. "At the time, your honor, you were my lawyer!"

Louise Bonino, the juvenile editor, was dining with a prospective authoress and her family one evening. The authoress told her five-year-old son, "Jackie, go wash your hands before dinner." "I can't get into the bathroom," asserted Jackie. "God's in there." "What on earth are you talking about?" his mother asked. Jackie insisted, "For the past ten minutes, Daddy has been banging on the bathroom door, saying, 'God, are you still in there?'"

In a single molecule of the human blood, there are an estimated 16,669 atoms.

Forrestal Studies Plan To Reduce Operating Hospitals

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(INS)—Secretary of Defense Forrestal studied a recommendation for consolidation of army, navy and air force medical services to eliminate more than 50 operating hospitals. The report was prepared under direction of Dr. Paul R. Hawley, former medical chief of the Veterans Administration who was named head of a board of experts selected by Forrestal in December, 1947 to make the study. The findings, which have not yet been acted upon by Forrestal, urged immediate closing of the big naval hospital at Pearl Harbor and the McCormack general hospital at Pasadena, Calif. The board said the 22nd Army general hospital on Guam should be closed as soon as possible. Forty-eight small hospitals would be reduced to dispensaries providing no in-patient care. Thirty-eight military and naval medical centers would be told to send patients to nearby hospitals of a different service. The board said that immediate effect would be to eliminate 7,000 beds, for which operating costs when they were at capacity were about twenty-five million dollars a year. Immediate savings could not be estimated.

Wages Financial Feud With U.S.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—(INS)—Gloria Vanderbilt Stokowski today waged a financial feud with Uncle Sam—in the person of Collector of Internal Revenue William J. Pedrick. The Vanderbilt heiress, in a Federal Court suit, says she paid $12,285 wrongly in gift taxes for a six-year period, and wants Pedrick to give it back.

According to Gloria, the taxes were allegedly overpaid on money received from her father's estate. She said the money actually went to her mother, Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt, who used it for maintenance of her daughter. Gloria, whose husband is Orchestra Conductor Leopold Stokowski, became of age February 20, 1945. Prior to that, the suit claims, settlement of all taxes believed due from the estate was made.

World War Two Veteran Re-Enlists
To Attend Officer Candidate
School

Richard W. Nicholson, of Butler, enlisted in the regular army Tuesday, January 11, for the purpose of attending Officer Candidate School, Captain Charles E. Weddle, commanding officer of the New Castle U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Main Station, said today.

Sgt. Nicholson served in the army medical corps during World War II, entering the service in February, 1945. He received his basic training at Camp Blanding, Fla., leaving there in June, 1945, for assignment with the 306th Medical battalion in the Philippine Islands, where he served until September, 1945, when he was transferred to the 1st Medical squadron with the 1st Cavalry for occupational duties in Japan. He received a discharge from the army December 13, 1946.

Sgt. Nicholson wears the Asiatic-Pacific medal, American Theater medal, Victory medal, Japanese Occupational ribbon, Unit Citation and the Unit Meritorious award. Sgt. Nicholson left New Castle Tuesday night for Officer Candidate School at Fort Riley, Kansas.

Captain Weddle said that any young man interested in attending OCS may obtain full information at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Main Station, Room 400, Frew building, or at the Recruiting Office in Room 202, Post Office building, New Castle.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley Named To Permanent Rank Of General In Army

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(INS)—President Truman nominated General Omar N. Bradley, army chief of staff, for promotion to the permanent rank of general in the regular army.

The President also nominated Adm. Raymond A. Spruance for promotion to the permanent grade as an admiral in the navy and Gen. Carl Spaatz, former chief of staff of the air force, to permanent retired rank as general of the U. S. air force.

In addition, Mr. Truman nominated Lt. Gen. Stephen J. Chamberlain as commanding general of the Fifth Army with the rank of lieutenant general.

The nominations were among a lengthy list of army, navy and air force promotions already made under recess appointments by the President.

AGED MAN KILLED

DILLSBURG, Pa., Jan. 14.—(INS)—Eighty-seven-year-old J. William Morgan, retired state fire marshal, of Dillsburg, R. D., walked across the Gettysburg pike to mail a letter Thursday.

As he recrossed the highway he was killed instantly by an automobile. The auto was driven by Clair Gettys, Dillsburg, who was en route to work in Mechanicsburg.

Cannot Prevent Use Of Atomic Weapons In War

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—(INS)—
Maj. Gen. Frederic Osborn, deputy
U. S. representative on the U. N.
Atomic Energy commission, believes that no plan for internaal control of atomic energy can prevent the use of atomic weapons in the next war.

Speaking at New York university
Osborn said that furthermore no relief from the world tensions can be expected until national rivalries now running riot over atomic research are eliminated.

"It is not wholly impossible," he said, "to believe that the Soviet Union may some day desire to cooperate with the rest of the world (on the atomic energy question)."

Mayer Received Top Salary In Film Industry

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(INS)—
Louis B. Mayer, Hollywood movie executive, was disclosed today to have received the top pay—$733,024—of any individual in the film industry in the 1948 fiscal year.

Mayer's pay for services to Loews, Inc., was revealed in movie-industry financial reports to the Securities and Exchange commission.
Bette Davis' salary of $364,000 topped the year's pay scale for actresses and actors in the early reports. Miss Davis is under contract to Warner Bros.

AL ROSEN SIGNS INDIANS CONTRACT

CLEVELAND, Jan. 14.—(INS)—Al Rosen, rookie third baseman, is in the Cleveland Indians' fold today—safe, sound, and satisfied. The 24-year-old slugger, last year's outstanding freshman in the American Association, returned his signed contract to the Tribe front office yesterday, thus becoming the first player to come to terms with the world's baseball champions for the coming season.

The All-American Pro Basketball league took advantage of a schedule break to stage a pennant chase which is a far cry from Youngstown's virtual cake walk last season.

Robinson Will Fight Belloise

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—(INS)—Sugar Ray Robinson, the welterweight champion who is so promising that he makes a fresh promise every month, came out today with what might be called a New Year's resolution.

Robinson told the Tournament of Champions, New Jersey boxing promoters, that he is ready to fulfill his contract to fight Steve Belloise, rugged New York middleweight.

This bout originally was carded for December 9, but Robinson increased his already lengthy list of postponements by developing some sort of an injury.

The bout now is slated to be held some time in mid-February, likely in Jersey City.

OUTDOORSMEN TO FETE SATURDAY

James Pattison, W. Henry Rodgers, Attorney Robert L. Wallace, W. J. Reed, George Scott, V. E. Daubenspect, Harry Richards, George Nichols, Arthur Forbush and Paul Powell.

The honor guests will be seated at their own table as a token of respect for their interest in life that affects the outdoors. Some of them have fished or hunted in various parts of North and South America.

One of the most pleasing events of the banquet will be the Variety Show to be given by the Barber Shop quartet, which is affiliated with the national organization of singers.

There will be various awards made. Each award will be for a hunter or fisherman and were made possible through local merchants. One kind of ticket calls for the dinner and the other may result in a person winning an award.

The presidents of all of the clubs affiliated with the council are responsible for the anticipated success of the affairs and, when the diners arrive in the dining-hall they will be directed to places by committeemen.

Four men accused of trying to "fix" the Madison Square Garden basketball game between George Washington University and Manhattan college pleaded not guilty recently to indictments charging bribery and conspiracy.

This will be one of the most difficult years for American milers to win renown because in all of the big meets they will meet one or more foreign stars, all of whom have better records than our U.S. standard bearers for 1500 meters or the mile.

The latest rumor making the rounds in Pittsburgh had Kass Kovalcheck, former Duquesne University football coach, under consideration for a high school job in western Pennsylvania.

VALUABLE RACE HORSES PERISH IN RAGING FIRE

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Jan. 14.—(INS)—Twenty-three harness race horses, including some of the East's fastest trotters and pacers, were burned to death Thursday in a $150,000 fire which destroyed their winter quarters at the Saratoga raceway.

The fire started in a $25,000 stable constructed only a year ago. The cause is not known. Two stable-hands, sleeping at the other end of the structure, opened the stall gates, but only one horse made his way safely out of the building.

Frank Wiswall, president of the Raceway Association, said the loss included $5,000 worth of sulkeys and harness.

Firemen were able to save several other nearby stables, in which about 100 horses were quartered.

THREE FAST GAMES TO DELIGHT FANS

Thomas, Alexander, Richardson and Clark make up the Shenango "Y" team that has a fine record compiled while playing top notch teams in the district. Coach Bob England's "Y" Clowns have lots of really high class talent but will have to hustle to keep ahead of the "Big Five". Tonight's prelim could well provide the evening's top thrills.

"Y" athletic director Harold Pears said today that there has been a flurry of ticket sales recently but there are still ducks available. The admission price for the topflight tripleheader is $.90 for adults and $.50 for children. Tickets are available at the "Y" lobby.

A Winchester man was barred from racing for life and an accomplice is under indefinite suspension for running a "ringer" last summer in Ohio trotting races.

Bill McPeak Signs With Cleveland Browns

League Leaders Face Tests in Section 23

Three Fast Games To Delight Fans

William (Bill) McPeak, son of Mrs. Ann G. McPeak and the late Charles A. McPeak of 1026 Winslow avenue, this city, captain and star end of the University of Pittsburgh football team, has been signed by the Cleveland Browns, champions of the All-America Conference, for the 1949 season.

Announcement of the signing of McPeak was made by the office of the Cleveland Browns today. McPeak will graduate at Pitt in June and report to the Browns in August. No announcement of salary was made. McPeak is one of the best college ends in the country.

Served in Navy
New Castle fans will follow with great interest the work of this sterling young man as he makes a career of pro football. In New Castle High McPeak never became a regular, being used as a tackle replacement on the 1942 and 1943 teams. He graduated at New Castle High in January of 1944 and then entered the U. S. navy.

Following his naval service McPeak enrolled at Pitt and played a regular end on the Panther eleven for all four years, being chosen unanimously as captain this year. One of the most likeable young chaps to ever play football at Pitt, McPeak has a host of friends who wish him well in his new career with the champion Browns and the nationally known Paul Brown as his coach.

Union High "Scotties," who do not have a chance to see what the word "breather" means, draw another stiff assignment tonight when they tangle with the high-flying Mounties of Mt. Jackson in a Section 23 tilt on the latter's home floor. Coach Chuck James' quintet has met New Wilmington, East Brook, and Wampum on successive dates and now must face league-leading Mt. Jackson.

Macko, with 34 points in three games leads the Scottie contingent into North Beaver Township prepared to "shoot the work." The Mounties, on the other hand must guard against over-confidence. Their high scoring Emery-Kerr combination, if sound, will be tough to beat on their home floor. Pat Kerr is leading the section 23 field goals and 8 fouts, while Bill Emery has 36 markers in two games played.

Wampum Undefeated
Wampum, also boasting 3 wins and no losses in league play, travels to East Brook, Coach Butler Henson appears to be developing another scap-hungry quintet this season, but East Brook, nipped by Shenango in their last outing, can still pull a lot of surprises in this league.

Bill Jones leads a winless crew of Princeton "Bears" into New Wilmington for a circuit fray. Jones, currently the second high scorer in the loop with 53 markers, will need the help of 4 other men to upset the powerful "Greyhounds," rebounding from a four-point defeat by Mt. Jackson Tuesday night.

Rivals Meet
Traditional rivals meet at Shenango when the "Wildcats" play host to Bessemer. Coach Eddie Nahas' five beat East Brook and the Eagles took Bessemer but the Cementers seem to be playing better basketball, in each game and figure to have a lot to say about who, if anyone, will succeed them to the Section 23 throne. Bessemer led 24 points in the Princeton tussle Tuesday and will have to be stopped if the Wildcats are to gain win number two.

Outdoorsmen To Fete Saturday

Affair In Cathedral At 6:30 P. M. To Attract Men, Women, Children

Plans are all arranged for the banquet of the Lawrence County Council of sportsmen at 6:30 p. m. Saturday, in the Cathedral, and it is anticipated there'll be hundreds of men, women and children present.

Harris Breth, well known radio commentator and writer on outdoors affairs, will be the principal spokesman. Hon. Judge John G. Lamoree will be the toastmaster, and DeLace Cole, chairman.

Elmer Brown, president of the Northeast division, of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's clubs, will be a guest of honor, as will men who years ago interested themselves in wild life affairs, and who are as follows:

Allen Cartwright, Les Brindle, Wes Davy, Ira Butler, Neal Williams, Charles B. Mayne, former mayor; Henry J. Sines, Scott McCaslin, Walter Bannan, Attorney J. Elder Bryan, Sheriff Frank Coen.

Walter DeArment, County Controller Andrew Dadds, City Tax Receiver Louis W. McClung, Fred Remley, H. H. Gregor, William Grinnell, Dr. W. W. Horner, William C. Kennedy, William Moody, Deputy Sheriff Thomas O'Brien.

HAMEY SAYS KINER IS READY TO SIGN

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 14.—(INS)—Back from a 10-day trip to Hawaii and California, Pittsburgh Pirate General Manager Roy Hamey let it be known today that Buc outfielder Ralph Kiner has accepted terms.

"We have agreed on his new contract," Hamey said, "and his signing will be announced shortly in Pittsburgh."

Falcons To Play Youngstown Silents

Sunday afternoon the Polish Falcons will play the famous Youngstown Silent Club at the Falcon Hall on Miller avenue. In the preliminary game at 2 o'clock the Shepoco girls team of the Shenango Pottery will play the St. Mary's girls team.

The Youngstown Silents are composed of all mutes and is rated one of the best teams in this area. Coach Andy Lasky will have his strongest Falcon lineup available to battle the Ohioans.

JUNIOR CHURCH LEAGUE
The following is the junior church basketball league schedule for Saturday's games at the "Y":

3. St. Paul vs Epworth; 3:45. St. George vs First Baptist; 4:30. Croton vs Third U. P.; 5:15. Second U. P. vs First Presby; 6. First Christian vs Central Presby; 6:45. First Methodist vs Trinity.

Olivar Takes Loyla Post

Head Grid Coach At Villanova Will Take Over At Loyola Of Los Angeles In Fall

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14.—(INS)—Line Coach John McKenna today appeared to lead the pack of candidates for the head coaching job at Villanova College—vacated by Jordan Olivar.

Olivar has accepted the posts of head coach and director of athletics at Loyla University of Los Angeles.

Jerry Neri, who served as backfield coach and scout for Villanova, also quit to go to Loyla.

Has Fine Record
Olivar came to the Wildcats six years ago. Last year his team won eight, tied one and lost two games. Its wins included a victory over the University of Nevada in the Harbor Bowl.

Despite the fact that Olivar never played football, and had coached only high school eleven before taking over as head coach of Villanova, his over-all record shows 33 wins, 20 losses and two ties.

WILL PLAY SUNDAY
Sunday the Arena roller-hockey team will play East Palestine at exhibition match at 4 o'clock, it was announced by Manager Lee Stoops today.

A tripleheader basketball card, featuring the world famous Harlem Legionnaires against an All-Star quintet, loaded with some of the best cage talent in New Castle, scheduled for tonight on the "Y" floor makes New Castle number one on the district hoop(er) rating this evening.

FRAN PITZER

In the 7 o'clock preliminary game, the Shenango St. "Y" Big Five meets the "Y" Clowns, another all-star aggregation picked from the cream of the participants in the various "Y" leagues. A Senior "Y" league play-off game will follow the main event.

The Harlem Legionnaires come to town boasting a 49 and 3 record. Playing a 150-game schedule that will take them to two neighboring U. S. cities as well as coast-to-coast in the U. S., the famous colored stars have compiled a remarkable record against really tough teams on their barnstorming schedule.

Cook Outstanding

Sonny Cook, a famous hook shot artist formerly with the Harlem Globe Trotters, is captain and leading scorer of the visiting squad. Bob Dawson of Warren, O., and Les Davenport of Youngstown are two other members of the visitors, who are famous for their hardwood clowning as well as their amazing shooting and passing ability.

Coach Frank Reed would not divulge the starting lineup today that the "Y" All Stars will send against the Legionnaires, but it is known that he is very well pleased to have such men as Fran and Bob Pitzer, Don Black, Fred Wimer, Chuck Rea, Janacone, Tanner, Stack, Eroe and Koonce available for duty.

Coach Frank Reed is rated as one of the best independent basketball players in the district. Not only does his point total stack up with the very best but his presence on a team always seems to insure a certain amount of good, high class basketball.

Black To Play

Don Black, former New Castle high scoring forward, is now playing on the Slippery Rock college varsity although he is only a freshman. While in high school, Black was the leading point maker in Section 3 and has continued to improve his basketball skills since graduation.

Coach Rea and Fred Wimer are two more ex-high school stars who have added college basketball to their many cage experiences. Rea is currently on the Salem, W. Va., college varsity and recently had nine points in a game against Steubenville. Wimer has varsity experience with the famous Rhode Island five and later was a leader in tri-state scoring attending Salem.

Good Prelim

Ribby Taylor, Bob Watters, Edie Smith, Ira Brown, Otis Burris.

New Castle Hi At Vandergrift

Respite From Section Three Wars, Play At Sharon Next Tuesday

Enjoying a respite from the Section Three warfare, New Castle High basketball team will go to Vandergrift tonight for a non-loop tilt with the Section One "Vandies".

New Castle will take up the Section Three cudgel again next Tuesday at Sharon, and will entertain Farrell here next Friday night.

Hoping to shake the "defeatist" complex that has gripped the locals the past three games, Coach George Thomas may take the means tonight of changing his lineup somewhat.

Reed Needs Rest

Young Don Reed has been carrying the load, and it would be a good idea to give the East Side scoring star a much needed rest. He will see action tonight, but it should be sparingly. Reed holds the key to the success of the Thomasmens, as his 192 points in the 11-game card so far indicates. He is the leading scorer in Section Three with 47 points in three games, followed by Liebendorfer of Beaver Falls with 32 and Janicki of Ambridge with 33.

The game at Vandergrift doesn't carry too much meaning, outside of keeping the boys in trim. Coach Thomas can experiment with various combinations.

An X-ray examination of the injured foot suffered by Tony Ciarella in the Aliquippa game, shows a dislocation, but no broken bones. He will not be in the game at Vandergrift tonight. Conti has a recurring leg injury that may keep him out also.

Drive Slow—Children Move Fast

OLD HANK GOWDY NOW WITH INDIANS IN FARM SET-UP

CLEVELAND, Jan. 14.—(INS)—Hank Gowdy, veteran National league player and coach, today joined the Cleveland Indians as an assistant in the Tribe farm set-up.

Indians officials said Gowdy, first major league player to enter the armed forces in the First World War, will serve as a roving "trouble-shooter" in the farm network.

The former Boston Braves' catching star also will aid Hank Greenberg, Cleveland vice president, in conducting a training school this spring at Marietta, O., for young baseball hopefuls.

Gowdy was released by the New York Giants this fall after two seasons as a coach on the club's staff.

Calabria Club Wins Thriller

Calabria Club rallied for 15 points in the final period to take a 43 to 42 basketball game from Pottery Local 3125 in a C-I league contest at the Y last night. The Pottery cagers led by eight points at the half but couldn't stand the double barreled bombardment of Red Ross and Pete Stack in the last two stanzas. These two aces accounted for 27 of the winners' 43 points. Eddie Jacobs caged 18 markers for the Pottery.

American Legion had an easy time lacing El Fityet, 49 to 20. Each of the nine Legion players got at least two points and Telez spearheaded the attack with 12.

Harp Janacone canned seven field goals and three fouls as United Engineering defeated B. & O. 46 to 30. Jones got nine for the losers who trailed by only two points at half time but faltered in the final periods.

"Comeback coach of the year"
Mike Milligan of Pitt.

Reminds Sportsmen To Meet Saturday

Sam Schade, deputy game warden for Lawrence County asks that all sportsmen interested in feeding wild life meet at the crib in Coaltown between 2 and 4 Saturday afternoon. This is a vital project. Recently 540 rabbits were stocked in Lawrence County, Schade said.

Although track will be without the stimuli offered by the Olympic games this year, the match between the Scandinavian countries and the U.S. at Oslo, Norway, on July 27-29, will furnish an incentive for athletes to win places on this U.S. team.
